New Academic Programs Fuel Growth in Degrees Awarded by DePaul

From 1995 to 2005, the number of degrees awarded by DePaul has grown dramatically, from 1,650 undergraduate and 1,712 graduate degrees in 1995, to 2,683 undergraduate and 2,438 graduate degrees in 2005.

This translates to a 63% increase in undergraduate degrees and 42% increase in graduate degrees, for a 52% total increase in degrees awarded at DePaul since 1995.

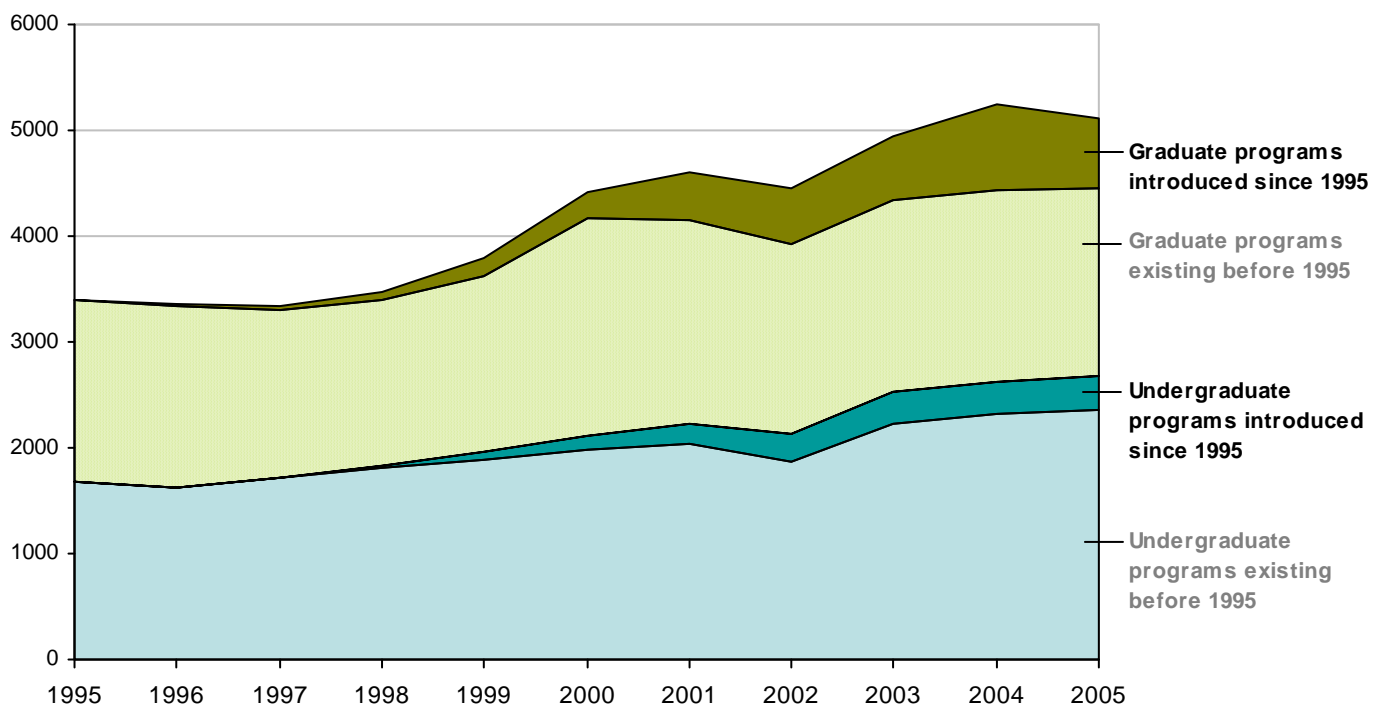

Academic programs granting undergraduate degrees increased from 57 programs in 1995 to 83 in 2005; programs granting graduate degrees increased from 52 in 1995 to 96 in 2005.

More than 90% of the growth in graduate degrees awarded from 1995 to 2005 was in graduate programs introduced since 1995. About one-third of the increase in undergraduate degrees awarded during this time was in programs introduced since 1995.

Of the degrees awarded in 2005, more than 27% of all graduate degrees and 12% of undergraduate degrees were in programs introduced since 1995.

Programs that existed before 1986 accounted for 83% of all undergraduate degrees and 53% of all graduate degrees awarded in 2005.
