About Us: DePaul University

- Located in Chicago, IL with two campuses
- DePaul University enrolls over 22,000 students
- The Office of Institutional Research and Market Analytics is housed under Academic Affairs
We have data – how can we help?

In the past, we typically received requests via Word of Mouth, or at the end of a proposal... how could we better reach more of our faculty members?
What can an IR office do for me?

Faculty Resources for New Program Proposals

This page serves as a resource for faculty developing new academic programs. Below you will find a list of resources and examples that can aid in the process. Faculty can also use these resources for certificate program and non-degree program proposals. As IRMA cannot provide market analysis support for these programs at this time. If you have any questions, please contact Coleen Dickman.

General Information

The links below provide general information on the CCP proposal guidelines and a list of recent IRMA competitive analyses.

Managing Requests for Market Data

Types of Competitive Market Analysis Summaries

This best describes the program you are proposing:
- A bachelor's or master's program that is already offered at other institutions locally, regionally, or nationally
- A bachelor's program that does not have to distinguish between BA or BS
- A program that does not have to be distinguished by mode of delivery (i.e. in-class, online or hybrid)

IF YES, THEN
Provide IRMA with:
- Program proposal
- Any possible Classification Instructional Program (CIP) codes
- A list of similar programs at other institutions

FINAL STEPS FROM IRMA
- Confirm correct CIP codes by providing description from National Center for Education Statistics (NCES)
- Develop program market demand:
  Degree completions
  Competitor institution
  National, Regional, & State Trends
  Job posting analytics
  Occupation overview

This best describes the program you are proposing:
- A unique program that is not offered locally, regionally or nationally
- A bachelor's program that requires a distinction between a BA and BS
- A program that has a specific mode of delivery (i.e. entirely online)
- A program that is interdisciplinary

IF YES, THEN
Describe to IRMA how the program is unique
- Is it interdisciplinary?
- Does it have a unique concentration?
- Are there any other differentiating characteristics?
- It will need to be compared to a very specific degree like Bachelor of Arts in Applied Computing (BAAC)

FINAL STEPS FROM IRMA
- Find Most similar CIP codes to develop program market demand:
  Degree completions
  Competitor institution
  National, Regional, & State Trends
  Job posting analytics
  Occupation overview
- Search university websites to find most similar programs at National, Regional, & State level.
Deliverables

One Page Report

• Quick turnaround
• Easily shareable
• Typically, one or two specified degrees (i.e. BFA and MFA or BA and BFA)
• CIP Code is a good match, both in terms of subject manner and course programming
• Usually includes a map or graph feature

Full Analysis

• A deeper analysis into the proposed program including SWOT type analysis
• Career and job industry included
• Text heavy, and not easily shared
• Time-consuming
• Helpful for interdisciplinary programs or programs lacking market awareness

Other Best Practices

- Create a spreadsheet to maintain current project list and track the status of requests
  - This may surprise you, but we tend to get duplicate requests that are either identical or very similar!
  - We found the most pertinent details include: requester, program name, date requested and deadline, status, and notes for additional detail

- If possible, train additional colleagues to assist during busy times of the year
Examples
Bachelor of Fine Arts in Wig and Makeup Design and Technology

The Theatre School has proposed a bachelor of fine arts (B.F.A.) degree in Wig and Makeup Design and Technology. The program fits into Classification Instructional Program (CIP) Codes [50.0499] Design and Applied Arts, Other; [50.0599] Dramatic & Theatre Arts & Stagecraft, Other; and [50.0502] Technical Theatre/Theatre Design and Technology. These CIP codes do not identify wigs and makeup as a focus, but careers in makeup artists, theatrical and performance are expected to grow faster than average 2016-2026.* Another perspective on interest in Wig Design is DePaul’s Institute for Professional Development that offers Wigs and Hair Production, a one week study that graduated 31 students between 2016 and 2018.

Degrees Conferred in Illinois (all 3 CIPs)

Market Share: In 2017, there were 109 degree completions among six Illinois institutions. Columbia College had the highest market share (60%) followed by DePaul (25%), SIU (6%), North Central (5%), Illinois Wesleyan (4%) and UIC (2%).

Nationwide Program Market Demand

In 2017, there were 1,708 completions from 124 institutions.

Similar Programs

University of North Carolina School of the Arts, B.F.A. with focus of Wigs & Makeup grew 35% YOY (2017) with 50 completions. The first two years are described as: “In the Wig & Makeup Design program you will learn the full array of skills required by the industry. Classroom topics will include drawing, color and design, hair and makeup history, styling, wig and makeup technology, and portraiture. Students will be able to practice what they learn through hands-on settings in realized student-driven productions, within the areas of drama, dance, film and opera.”

The third and fourth years are described as “Students will learn the necessary skills to run Production from positions of Assistants to Wig and Makeup Designers, Wig Masters, Head of Department in film productions.” The hours are spent working in a 9000 square foot Costume/Wig/Makeup Studio completed in 2005 and five different state-of-the-art theatrical spaces.
Market Trends: Bachelor’s Degree in Sports Communication

IPEDS DEGREES CONFERRED NATIONWIDE
Sports Communication bachelor’s degrees (CIP code 09.0906) awarded in the U.S. were aggregated using the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS). Fifteen institutions awarded degrees in 2015 and they accounted for a total of 364 bachelor’s degrees conferred for the five years between 2011 and 2015. The number of degrees conferred grew from 40 in 2011 to 110 in 2015, a 168% increase. Oklahoma State had the highest number of degrees conferred in 2015 (39) followed by Bradley University (29) and Ithaca College (10).

IBHE ENROLLMENT ILLINOIS
Only one institution in Illinois, Bradley University, has been enrolling students in Sports Communication since 2011. In 2016, Bradley enrolled 96 students and has had a consistent number of students (~100) between 2011-2016 (2013 data is not available).

ECONOMIC DATA
Regional job outlook (Chicago-Naperville-Elgin, IL-IN-WI) shows a projected +9% change in jobs related to this degree between 2011-2022. The median hourly earnings in 2016 was $31.46.

MS in Hospitality

MARKETING STRATEGY

Target Audience

Hospitality firms value that contextual application of advanced knowledge and improved leadership ability. The proposed MS degree in Hospitality Leadership and Operational Performance is targeted for (1) individuals who have little or no hospitality industry experience and wish to enter the field, or (2) students with an undergraduate degree in hospitality who want to pursue studies about a narrow subject within the field. Most of the first-year MS coursework has a strong focus on business core courses followed by specific hospitality industry content in the area of Leadership and Operational Performance.

Nature of the Demand for our Graduates

A factor in the hospitality industry is that there are no entry-level management or supervisory positions that require a graduate degree. Some other fields, such as banking or pharmaceuticals, have clearly articulated job descriptions that demand a graduate degree for the higher-level functions necessary for successful operations. The hospitality industry has no such need. Thus, our MS graduates would have the same entry-level positions as similar to that of our undergraduates. The key difference is that the MS graduate typically outperforms the undergraduate in the workplace and usually achieves multiple promotions within the first few years of employment. The MSHLOP degree offers industry embedded curriculum content designed to prepare graduates for those mid-level managerial and supervisory positions in operations while strengthening the DePaul brand image within the Hospitality industry through competency based learning.

Proposal MS in Wealth Management

4- Marketing Strategy

In this section, we will cover the careers available to students and the strength of the job market, the target student, the competition, and what are the competitive strengths of DePaul to attract students for an MS in Wealth Management.

The Careers Available

The job market for graduates in Wealth Management is exploding and so are the numbers of professionals in this area. According to the U.S. Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics, employment of personal financial advisors is projected to grow percent from 2010 to 2020, much faster than the average for all occupations.

The primary driver of growth will be the aging population. As large numbers of baby boomers approach retirement, they will seek planning advice from personal financial advisors.

Decreased funds for corporate and state pensions also are expected to contribute to the trend of hiring personal financial advisors. Private corporations and state and local governments are facing shortfalls in their pension funds, which may lead to benefit reductions. This will require more financial planning from individuals and increase the demand for personal financial advisors.
